

HOW TO REGISTER FOR THE CONGRESS

The 81st Congress of the French Speaking Psychoanalysts (CPLF) will take place on Thursday May 13, Friday May 14 and Saturday May 15, 2021.

It will be broadcast by videoconference from a recording studio located at the “Maison de la Mutualité” in Paris instead of being held in person at the YMCA Center in Jerusalem as originally planned.

Key speakers, and speakers will be able to connect and intervene from the studio or from any other place according to the global COVID situation and their convenience.

The registration gives access to the entire program. The congress will be broadcast in French, Hebrew, English and Portuguese.

Thanks to the streaming technology, a permanent interactivity will be possible between registrants. They will be able to ask questions and share their observations with the speakers by chat during the discussion time, after each meeting and during the forums, but also in a delayed way if you follow the congress in "replay" because of the time zones. The speakers' answers will be given on the air, during the discussion time. All the content will be accessible live and in replay, in the language of your choice - French, Hebrew, English, Portuguese - via the streaming platform dedicated to the Congress.

Around April 12, you will receive by email from our secretariat, the link including the URL connection to join the streaming platform of our event. It is IMPERATIVE to make sure you have a performant internet connection. In case of an email address change, let us know at least five days before the date of the Congress.

The Congress content will be available for replay on the platform until May 30, 2021.
